

Belmonte Spain

END OF APRIL

Belmonte Castle is one of Europe's finest preserved 15th-century fortresses and an iconic landmark of Spain's medieval heritage.

Its imposing architecture, rich history, and authentic atmosphere make it an exceptional venue for an international buhurt tournament, allowing competitors and spectators alike to experience the sport in a setting that truly reflects its historical roots.

Even more, Belmonte Castle has played a fundamental role in the development of buhurt in Spain.

This year, with the 10th edition of Belmonte's National Tournament, marks a whole decade supporting this sport.

It has hosted tournaments, exhibitions and training events that not only have helped establish and grow the Spanish buhurt community, but also opened it to the international community.

Many of the country's most memorable competitions have taken place within its walls, hosting fighters from all over the world and making the castle a symbol of the sport's evolution.

Hosting the BI Worlds at Belmonte would not only celebrate elite international competition, but also set the next step. We've been here for a decade, the next one will be even better.

Approx daily cost breakdown per person covering accommodation, meals, local transport,
and basic sightseeing:

Budget: $75 – $85 (€70 – €80) per day:

Basic guesthouses, local tapas bars, and independent sightseeing.

Mid-Range: $165 – $200 (€150 – €185) per day:

Nice 3 or 4-star accommodations, full restaurant
meals, and castle entry.

Luxury: $385+ (€355+) per day:

High-end unique lodging like a parador or premium hotel, fine dining, and private regional tours.